The definitive directory for retailers and buyers of baby products

The Baby Products Association's Handbook returns after many years due to popular demand, once again providing the nursery sector with a definitive directory of contacts; opening the door of communication between manufacturers, suppliers, retailers and buyers.

Whilst the Association has an online directory on its website, retailers and buyers have expressed a preference for a 'hard' copy on their desk which is easy and ready to refer to when sourcing suppliers. In the past, print and postage costs have made production of the publication prohibitive; so the Association has the ideal solution. The same Handbook produced in traditional print format, for people to download and use at their leisure. It can also be professionally printed in small quantities for distribution at industry events.

The Baby Products Association's Handbook will be a researched, up-to-date source of information for everyone in the nursery industry.

Manufacturers and suppliers are invited to include their details in the form of a basic entry free of charge - and can actively enhance their profiles through low cost advertising options too. The Handbook will be widely promoted via trade press, social media and Association communications, giving advertisers the prime opportunity to raise the profile of their brand.

The Baby Products Association's Handbook will be officially launched at Harrogate International Nursery Fair (16th to 18th October 2022).

Advertising space is limited - so book early to ensure a prominent position!

The front cover of the Handbook will be sold by blind auction (minimum bid of £600 and open only to Association members). Association members will have their logo included free of charge and will also receive a 10% discount on advertising costs below.
